

I don't want my bank calling me as if they are another telemarketer. I get all kinds of notices from them in the mail about new and improved services. I can make a decision from those. I don't need any more phone calls. I don't even have a land line in my home. I use my cell phone as my home phone and that would just be using precious minutes as well as be an annoying presence that I don't want. I signed up on the no-call list for a reason and they should respect that. If they are allowed to start calling customers, I will look for a bank that is not a CBA member and move my accounts there. There are plenty.

Thank you for your time.
